Effective practice to share with the field: Describe examples of effective and/or innovative practices at your coll setting institution-set standards, evaluating college or programmatic performance related to student achievem changes that have happened in response to analyzing college or program performance (1,350 character limit, approximately 250 words). The steps for the College to set institution-set standards are as follows. Step 1: Creation of the student performance benchmarks and goals. This Dashboard is used to create college wide dialogue about program performance and student learning. These conversations are used to inform the setting of college priorities and identify opportunities to improve student academic achievement. Step 2:Planning and Budgeting Council (PBC) meeting of September 2014, entirely devoted to discussions of student performance benchmarks and goals. discussion included: Course Retention, Student Persistence, Course Success Rates, Success Rates in GE, CTE, Pre-Transfer, and ESL Courses, Degree and Certificate Completion Rates. Step 4: The institution-set standards were also incorporated into program review data packet.

Student Learning Outcomes and Assessment

Note: Colleges were expected to achieve the proficiency level of Student Learning Outcomes assessment by fall 2012. At this time, colleges are expected to be in full compliance with the Accreditation Standards related to student learning outcomes and assessment. All courses, programs, and student and learning support activities of the college are expected to have student learning outcomes defined, so that ongoing assessment and other requirements of Accreditation Standards are met across the institution. In completing the 2016 Annual Report, please refer to the revised Accreditation Standards adopted June 2014.

35.	Cañada College assesses its Institutional Learning Outcomes (ILOs) on an annual basis in order to assure institutional effectiveness and promote continuous improvement. The College uses multiple measures of assessment: (a) Data from a survey of students petitioning to graduate with a degree or certificate; (b) Data from Student Satisfaction Survey; or (c) Data from Community Colleges Survey of Student Engagement (CCSSE). The results of these assessments are discussed by our participatory governance bodies, including the Planning & Budgeting Council, Student Equity Committee, and appropriate action plans are developed. Each of the following narrative responses is limited to 250 words. As you develop your responses, please be mindful of success stories that can be reported in the last question of this section. We look forward to including this information from colleges in our report to the Commission and the field in June.

Please discuss alignment of student learning outcomes at your institution, from institutional and course to program level. Describe your activities beyond crosswalking or charting all outcomes to courses in a program (often called "mapping"), to analysis and implementation of alignment in the planning of curriculum and delivery of instruction. Discuss how the alignment effort has resulted in changes of expected outcomes and/or how students' programs of study have been clarified. Note whether the described practices apply to all instructional programs at the college (1,350 character limit, approximately 250 words).

Faculty aligned Course SLOs with Program LOs and ILOs, using the Tracdat software system.

The alignment reports (PLO to ILO and SLO to ILO) are available for faculty to make the "mapping" analyses more amenable and meaningful. Currently, course requirements and sequences within Programs are determined by content, prerequisites, and transfer requirements. The state-mandated Transfer Model Curriculum (TMC) degrees are expected to influence our degree requirements, as each of these TMCs becomes approved. To ensure that students who complete its programs are prepared for their chosen degree, license or employment goal, Cañada College has developed student learning outcomes, program learning outcomes and institutional learning outcomes. Student learning outcomes have been developed for each course offered through the College. Furthermore, the program planning model that Cañada College uses requires every instructional program to document its assessment of student learning outcomes every semester the course is taught in TracDat, an on-line repository for student learning outcomes. The assessment of student learning outcomes serves as the foundation for planning improvement in teaching and learning strategies. http://www.canadacollege.edu/academics/PLO%20Results.php http://www.canadacollege.edu/programreview/slo_pr.php

Describe the various communication strategies at your college to share SLO assessment results for usage by internal and external audiences. Explain how communications take into account how the information is expected to influence the behavior or decisions of particular audiences. Discuss how communication of student learning outcomes assessment information and results impacts student behavior and achievement (1,350 character limit, approximately 250 words).

Students are informed of Course SLOs on their course syllabi and the public at-large is informed of Program and Institutional SLOs on the college website. Assessment results at the course and program level are available internally through TracDat and/or a SharePoint site. Faculty and staff review assessment results and report on the impact of these assessments in their biennial Program Review. The resulting program review documents are posted on the college's website to be viewed by students, the public at-large, and the college's Instructional, Student Services and Administrative Planning Councils for making resource allocation decisions.

Explain how dialog and reporting of SLO assessment results takes place at the departmental and institutional levels. Note whether practices involve all programs at the college. Illustrate how dialog and reporting impact program review, institutional planning, resource allocation, and institutional effectiveness (1,350 character limit, approximately 250 words).

Faculty and staff periodically review course and program SLO results at scheduled Professional Development days, for which adjunct faculty are given stipends to promote their participation. Assessment results are part of the biennial Program Review process which involves all instructional, student services, and administrative programs. Program reviews and program plans are posted on the college's website and are used by the Instructional, Student Services, and Administrative Services Planning Councils to make recommendations regarding resource requests and/or program effectiveness. Reports of resource allocations are submitted to the college's Planning & Budgeting Committee. Program Reviews link: http://www.canadacollege.edu/programreview/index.php

Please share with us two or three success stories about the impacts of SLO practices on student learning, achievement, and institutional effectiveness. Describe the practices which led to the success (1,350 character limit, approximately 250 words).

Achievement measures played a stronger role than student learning outcomes in terms of student success. (Retention, completion, persistence, degree/certificate awarded, and transfer, etc. See #23.) Course SLOs assessment results and dialogues have stimulated individual faculty to take a good look at what they do in the classroom and why, and promoted dialog among instructors about pedagogy. PLO assessment results include sample sizes too small to make valid conclusions, and the few numbers of grads per major may keep it that way for awhile. With new development of college data dashboard which contains student achievement data, faculty and staff have access to the college data dashboard and are able to drill down to disaggregated subgroups to inform faculty\'s own practices. This function and capacity are able to help faculty and staff create actionable strategies to improve student success.
